Variation: Try speeding up the song, going faster and faster to see how fast you can get.
Try slowing down the song and go as slowly as you can.

Early Literacy Tip

Children like to explore works of art that use a variety of materials and approaches to color, line, shape, texture, pattern, and space. Find a number of different illustrations for a song or rhyme that your child already knows. Look at the pictures together and help him or her see and talk about the similarity and differences spotted. Having fun making comparisons is one way to help your child develop an appreciation and love of art.
